Please note that the inclusion of any building in this discussion document does not mean that the building or its grounds are open to the public. Many of these buildings are private homes or businesses, so please respect the occupiers' privacy.

Historic England has published a listing selection guide for places of worship (2017). The Council has adopted criteria for identifying local heritage assets (2016). This discussion document examines the selection guide in a local context and offers initial recommendations for local listing.

As a general principle, most buildings erected between 1700 and 1840 are suitable for inclusion on the statutory list. After that date, “progressively greater selection is necessary ... because of the greatly increased number of buildings erected and the much larger numbers that have survived” (DCMS, 2010).

The statutory list appears to disregard the contribution made by early nonconformist chapels. This discussion document identifies twenty nonconformist chapels erected between c.1750 and c.1870 that appear suitable for inclusion on the local list.

Nonconformist chapels c.1750 to 1839

The term ‘nonconformity’ embraces the Baptist, Congregational and Methodist denominations and the Society of Friends. Nonconformity experienced its “period of greatest expansion ... from the mid eighteenth century” (Historic England, 2017). Generally nonconformist chapels from this period will be suitable for inclusion on the local list provided that they satisfy our field assessment criteria.

Eighteen nonconformist chapels survive from the period c.1750 to c.1839. Six of these chapels have been added to the statutory list. They are at Diseworth (c.1752), Castle Donington (1774), Newton Burgoland (1807), Ashby de la Zouch (1817; Baptist), Worthington (1820) and Ashby de la Zouch (1825; Congregational).

Twelve nonconformist chapels from this period have not been added to the statutory list. They are at Griffydam (1778), Long Whatton (1793), Hemington (1797), Belton (1813), Moira (1822), Whitwick (1822; Methodist), Whitwick (1823; Baptist), Appleby Magna (1825), Castle Donington (1829), Coalville (1835), Ravenstone (1838) and Coleorton (1839).

Generally these chapels appear well preserved and therefore suitable for inclusion on the local list. The chapels at Hemington, Whitwick (Methodist), and Coleorton have been altered to the extent that they do not satisfy our field assessment criteria.

Nonconformist chapels 1840 to c.1870

Nonconformity continued to enjoy its “period of greatest expansion” until about 1870. In a national context, the classical style was “popular up to 1860 or even beyond”; after that date “gothic was favoured by most denominations”. The Methodist chapel at Thringstone (1872) is the earliest use of the gothic style locally. Generally nonconformist chapels from this period will be suitable for inclusion on the local list provided that they satisfy our field assessment criteria.

Sixteen nonconformist chapels survive from the period 1840 to c.1870. Two of these chapels have been added to the statutory list. They are at Measham (1841) and Ashby de la Zouch (1862).

Fourteen nonconformist chapels from this period have not been added to the statutory list. They are at Castle Donington (1840), Appleby Magna (1841), Hugglescote (1851), Heather (1852), Measham (1854), Newton Burgoland (1855), Ibstock (1855; Methodist), Ibstock (1856; Baptist), Griffydam (1858), Swannington (1858), Normanton le Heath (1860), Whitwick (1861), Thringstone (1862) and Kegworth (1865).

Generally these chapels appear well preserved and therefore suitable for inclusion on the local list. The chapels at Appleby Magna, Hugglescote and Newton Burgoland have been altered to the extent that they do not satisfy our field assessment criteria.

Nonconformist chapels since c.1870

As a general rule nonconformist chapels built after c.1870 are not suitable for inclusion on the local list. Nonconformist chapels built after this date may be included on the local list if they have architectural interest and they satisfy our field assessment criteria.

The Methodist chapel at Castle Donington (1905) is a grade II listed building. It was designed by Albert Lambert<sup>1</sup> and has special architectural interest. The Methodist chapel at Swannington (1909) is also a grade II listed building. It was designed by Withers & Meredith and has special architectural interest.

The Methodist chapel at Long Whatton (1912) was also designed by Albert Lambert. It appears to have architectural interest and is suitable for inclusion on the local list.

Churches since c.1840

Historic England describe the revival of gothic architecture in the established church from c.1840. They note that “Catholic churches began to match the scale and architectural pretension of those of the established church” from the 1840s.

Historic England advises that “churches by the best known architects” are suitable for inclusion on the statutory list, but they acknowledge that buildings by “lesser-known provincial architects [may] match those of the London based practices in scale and quality” (Historic England, 2017). Churches erected after c.1840 may be suitable for inclusion on the local list if they have architectural interest and they satisfy our field assessment criteria.

Twelve churches survive from the period between c.1840 and the end of the First World War. Nine of these churches have been added to the statutory list. Four were designed by Henry Isaac Stevens: Coalville (1838), Donisthorpe (1838), Ashby de la Zouch (1840) and Blackfordby (1858). The others are as follows:

- RC Church of St Bernard, Charley (AWN Pugin, 1844);
- Church of St Andrew, Thringstone (James Piers St Aubyn, 1862);
- Church of St John the Baptist, Hugglescote (John Breedon Everard, 1879)<sup>2</sup>;
- Church of St Peter, Bardon Hill, Coalville (Everard & Pick, 1899);
- RC Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, Ashby de la Zouch (Frederick Walters, 1915).

Three churches from this period have not been added to the statutory list. They appear to have architectural interest and are suitable for inclusion on the local list. They are as follows:

- Church of St Christopher, Ellistown (Goddard Paget & Goddard, 1896);
- RC Church of the Holy Cross, Whitwick (McCarthy & Co, 1905);
- Church of St James, Coalville (Stockdale Harrison & Sons, 1915).

The Church of St James was converted to an assembly and leisure use in 2012.

A methodist chapel, opened in February 1863. The chapel is a small single storey building, faced in smooth render beneath a gabled concrete tile roof. There is a central entrance door with a semicircular head, flanked by tall window openings with similar heads. Above, there is a pediment containing a datestone. To the rear, there is a pseudo-detached church hall erected in the 1970s.

The classical style remained popular for nonconformist chapels until c.1870. Chapels built before this date are generally considered to have qualities of age that justify their inclusion on the Local List.
